

Trading volume by day

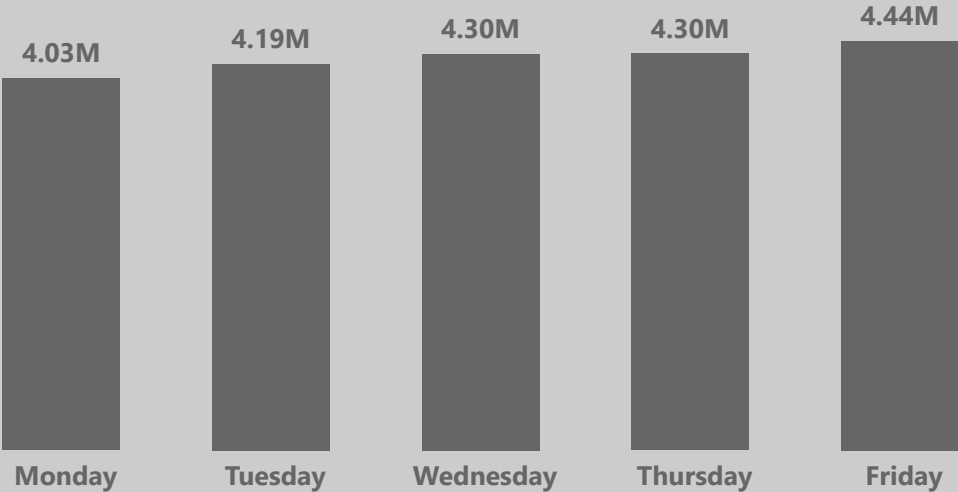

Top 3 most traded stocks on Jan 20th 2016

- Largest overall trading volume took place on January 20th 2016, with a total of $4,087,629,753.
- Three stocks that were traded most on that day were Bank of America Corp (BAC), Freeport-McMoRan Copper & Gold (FCX), and General Electric (GE).
- On average, Fridays have the highest trading volumes compared to other weekdays. Mondays have noticeably less volume than other days of the week.

Average trading volumes per weekday

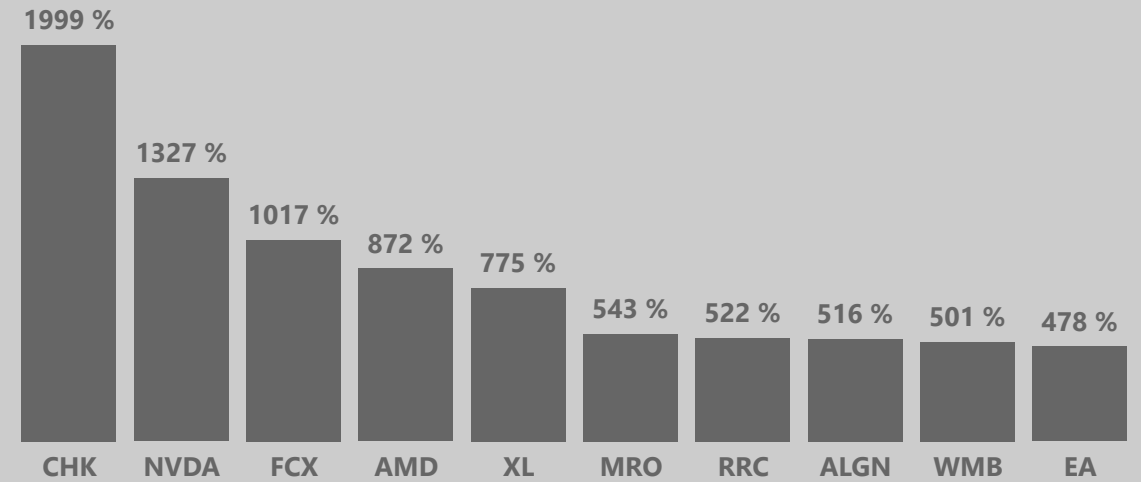

Max Montin
15 October 2023

Highest daily volatilities of five largest stocks

AMZN	85.99	2017	June	9
GOOGL	55.17	2016	February	3
NVDA	25.75	2017	June	9
AAPL	16.80	2015	August	24
MSFT	3.73	2017	December	4

Top 10 best performing stocks

- Out of the five largest stocks on the S&P 500, Amazon had the highest change in value in a single day.
- Microsoft's stock was noticeably stable during the entire period of analysed data. At its highest volatility, Microsoft's stock value only had a difference of $3.73 between its lowest and highest value in a single day.
- June 9th 2017 had the highest volatility for both Amazon and Nvidia. Business Insider speculated that Amazon's stock may have dropped due to an automated or miscalculated trade and that Nvidia's stock could have fallen after a comment from Citron Research.

Source: <https://www.businessinsider.com/closing-bell-june-9-2017-2017-6?r=US&IR=T>

Max Montin
15 October 2023